

Using Blazor Hybrid in WPF and Windows Forms

Thomas Claudius Huber

Software Developer

@thomasclaudiush | www.thomasclaudiushuber.com

Module Outline

Understand the plan

- Move components to the library
- Reuse them in WPF and Windows Forms

Create a WPF project

- Add a BlazorWebView
- Set up dependency injection
- Include styles
- Use Windows authentication

Look at a Windows Forms project

Understand the Plan

Understand the Plan

CoffeeBrowser.Maui

Coffees.razor

Understand the Plan

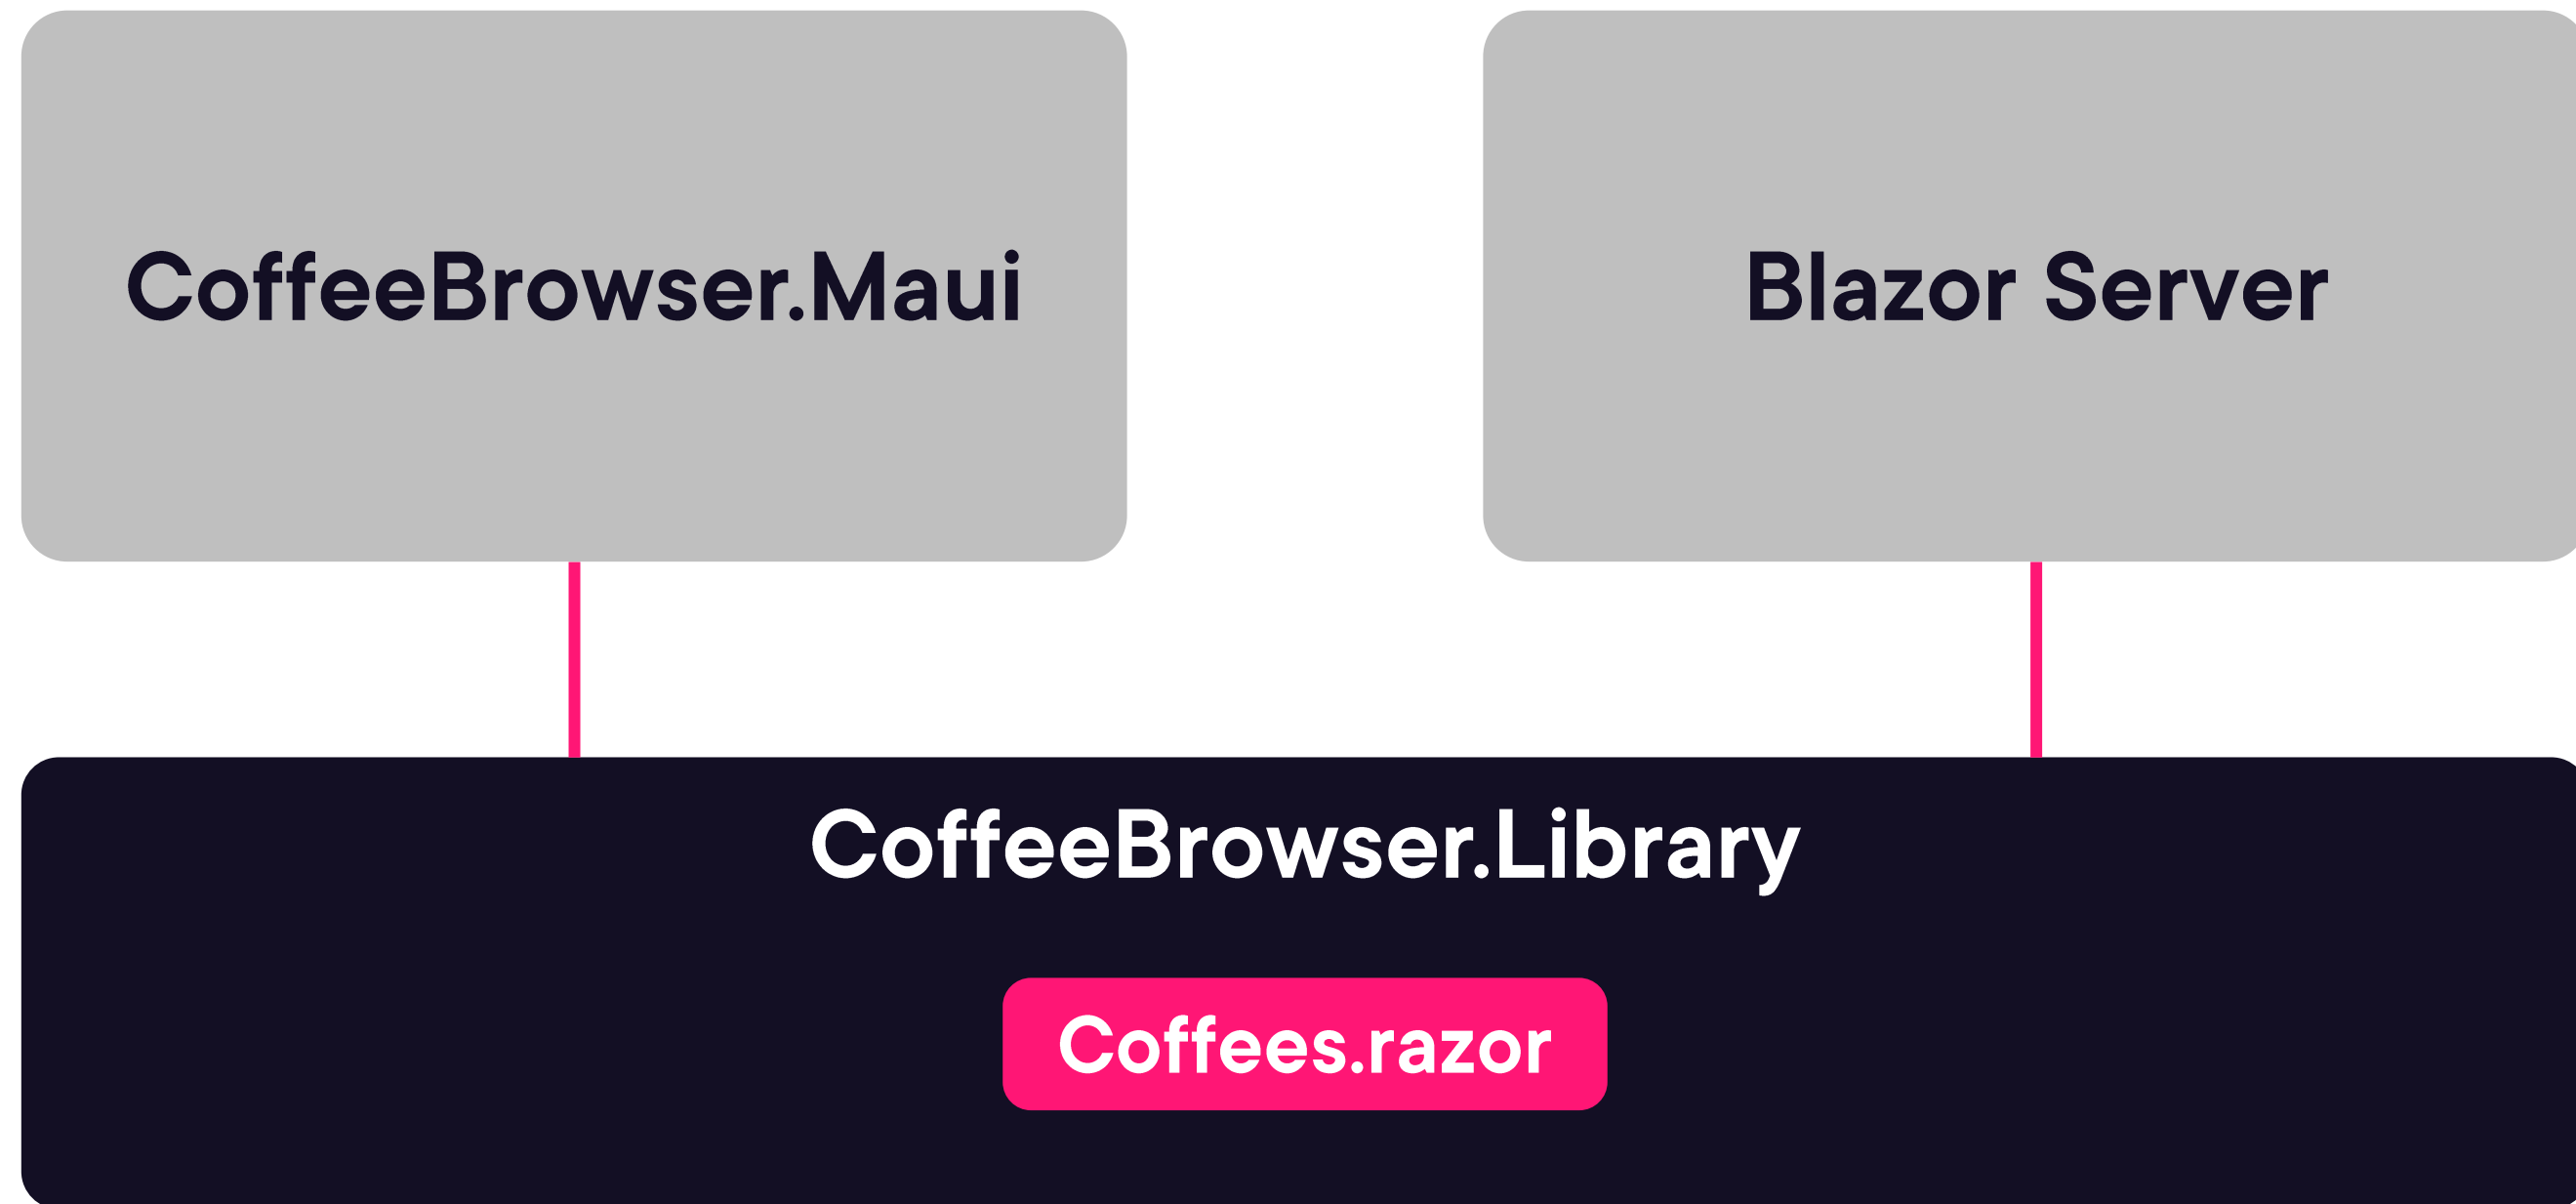

CoffeeBrowser.Maui

CoffeeBrowser.Library

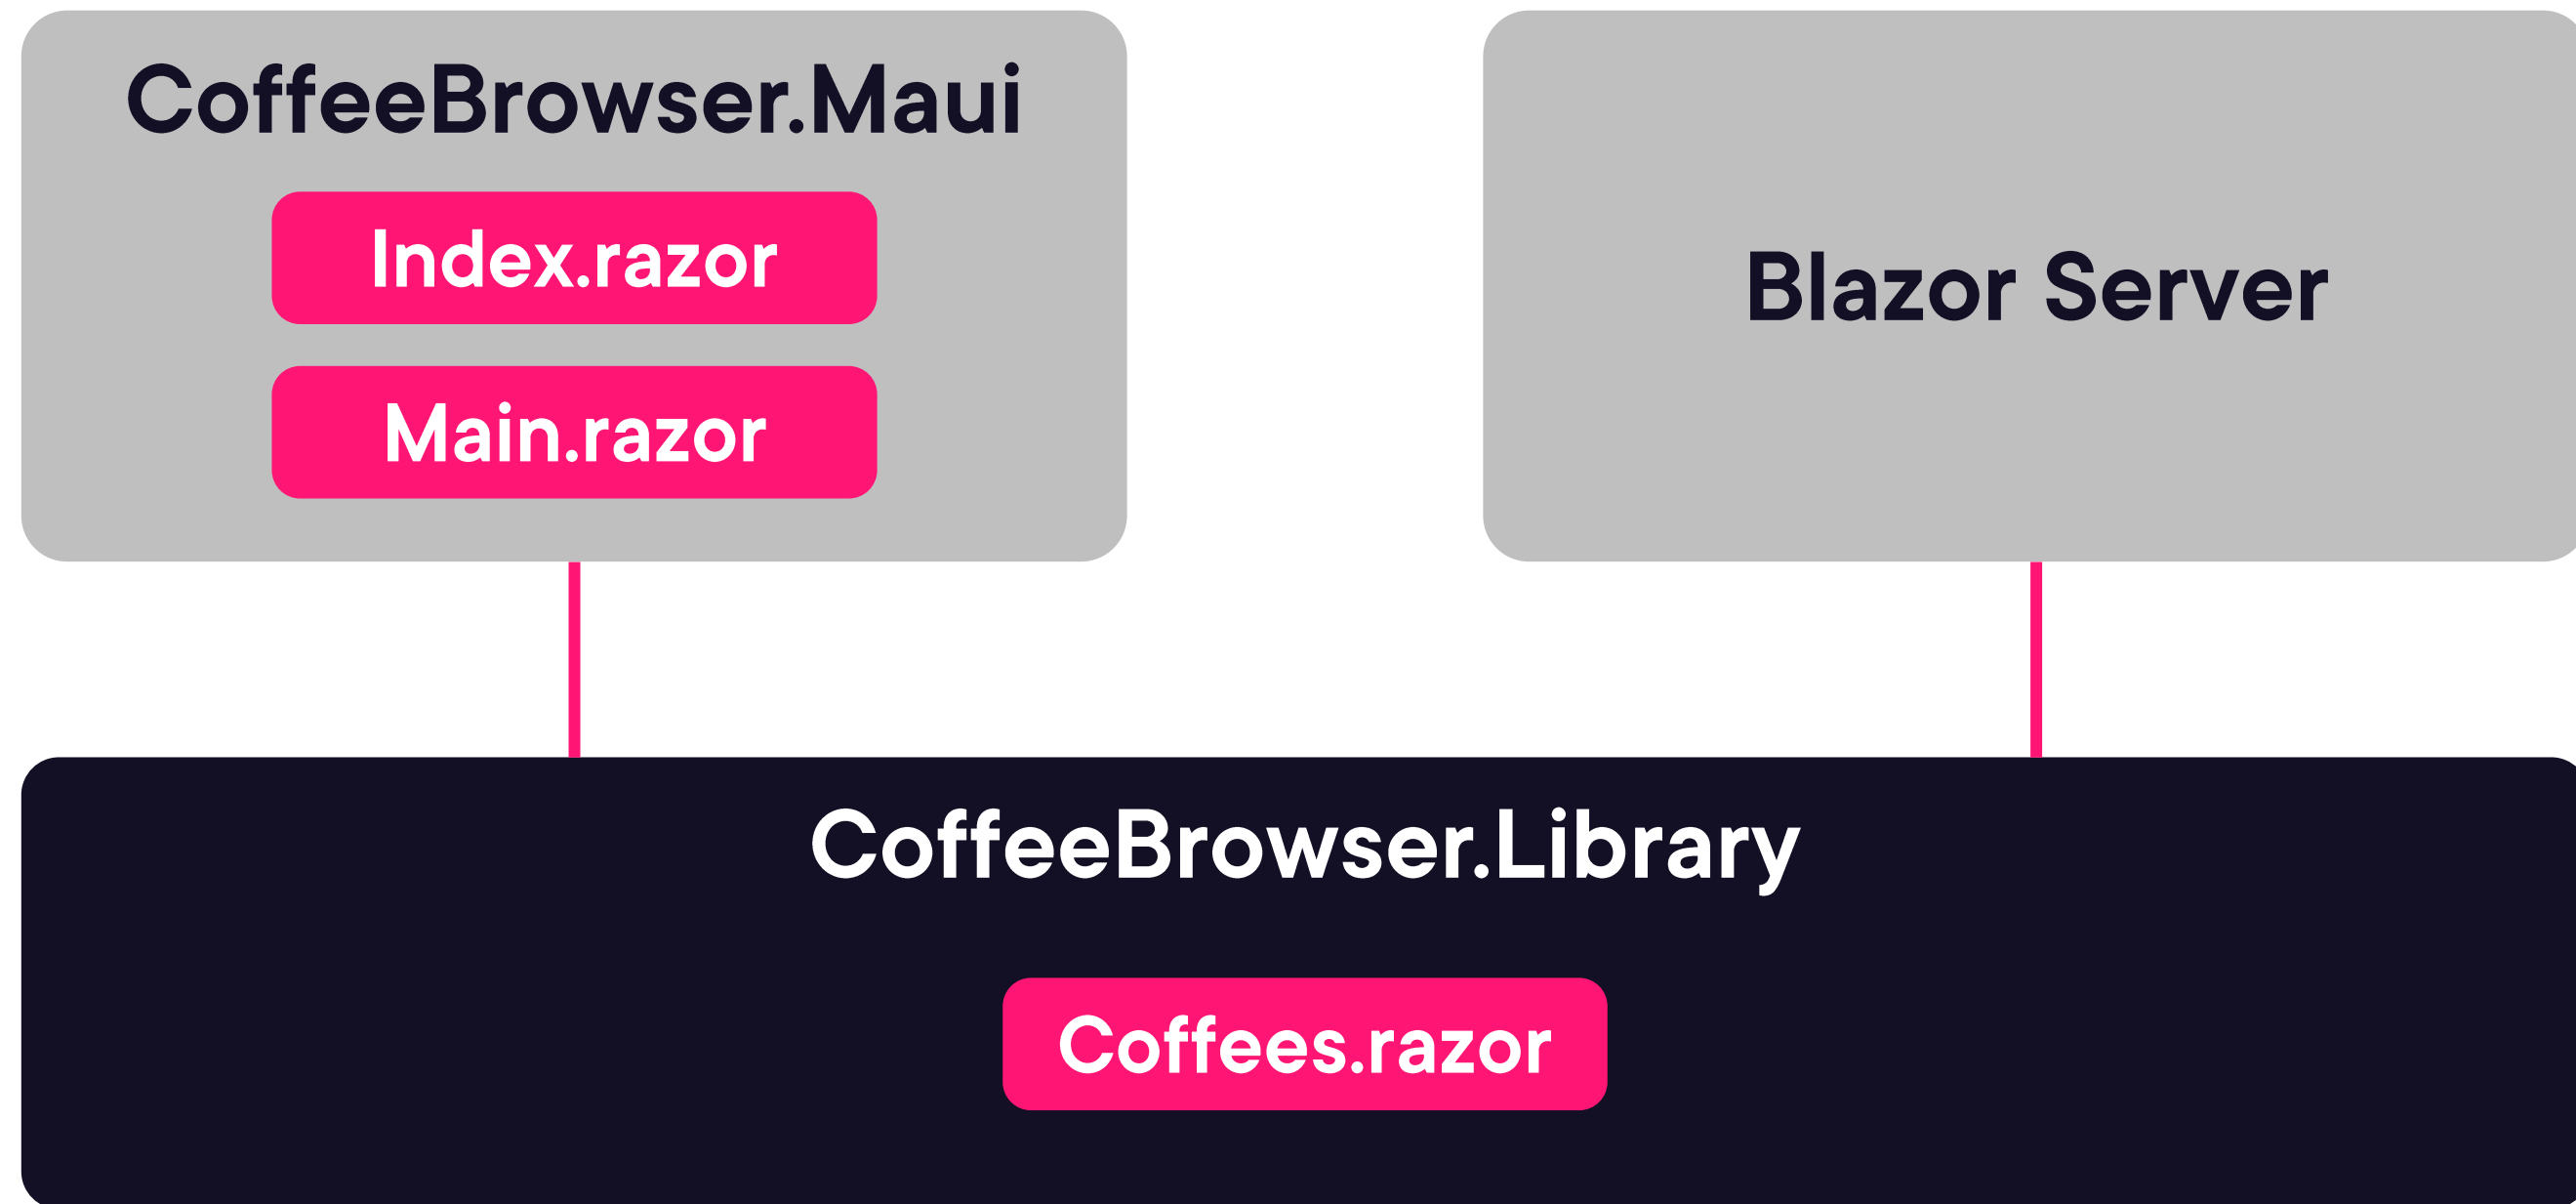

Coffees.razor

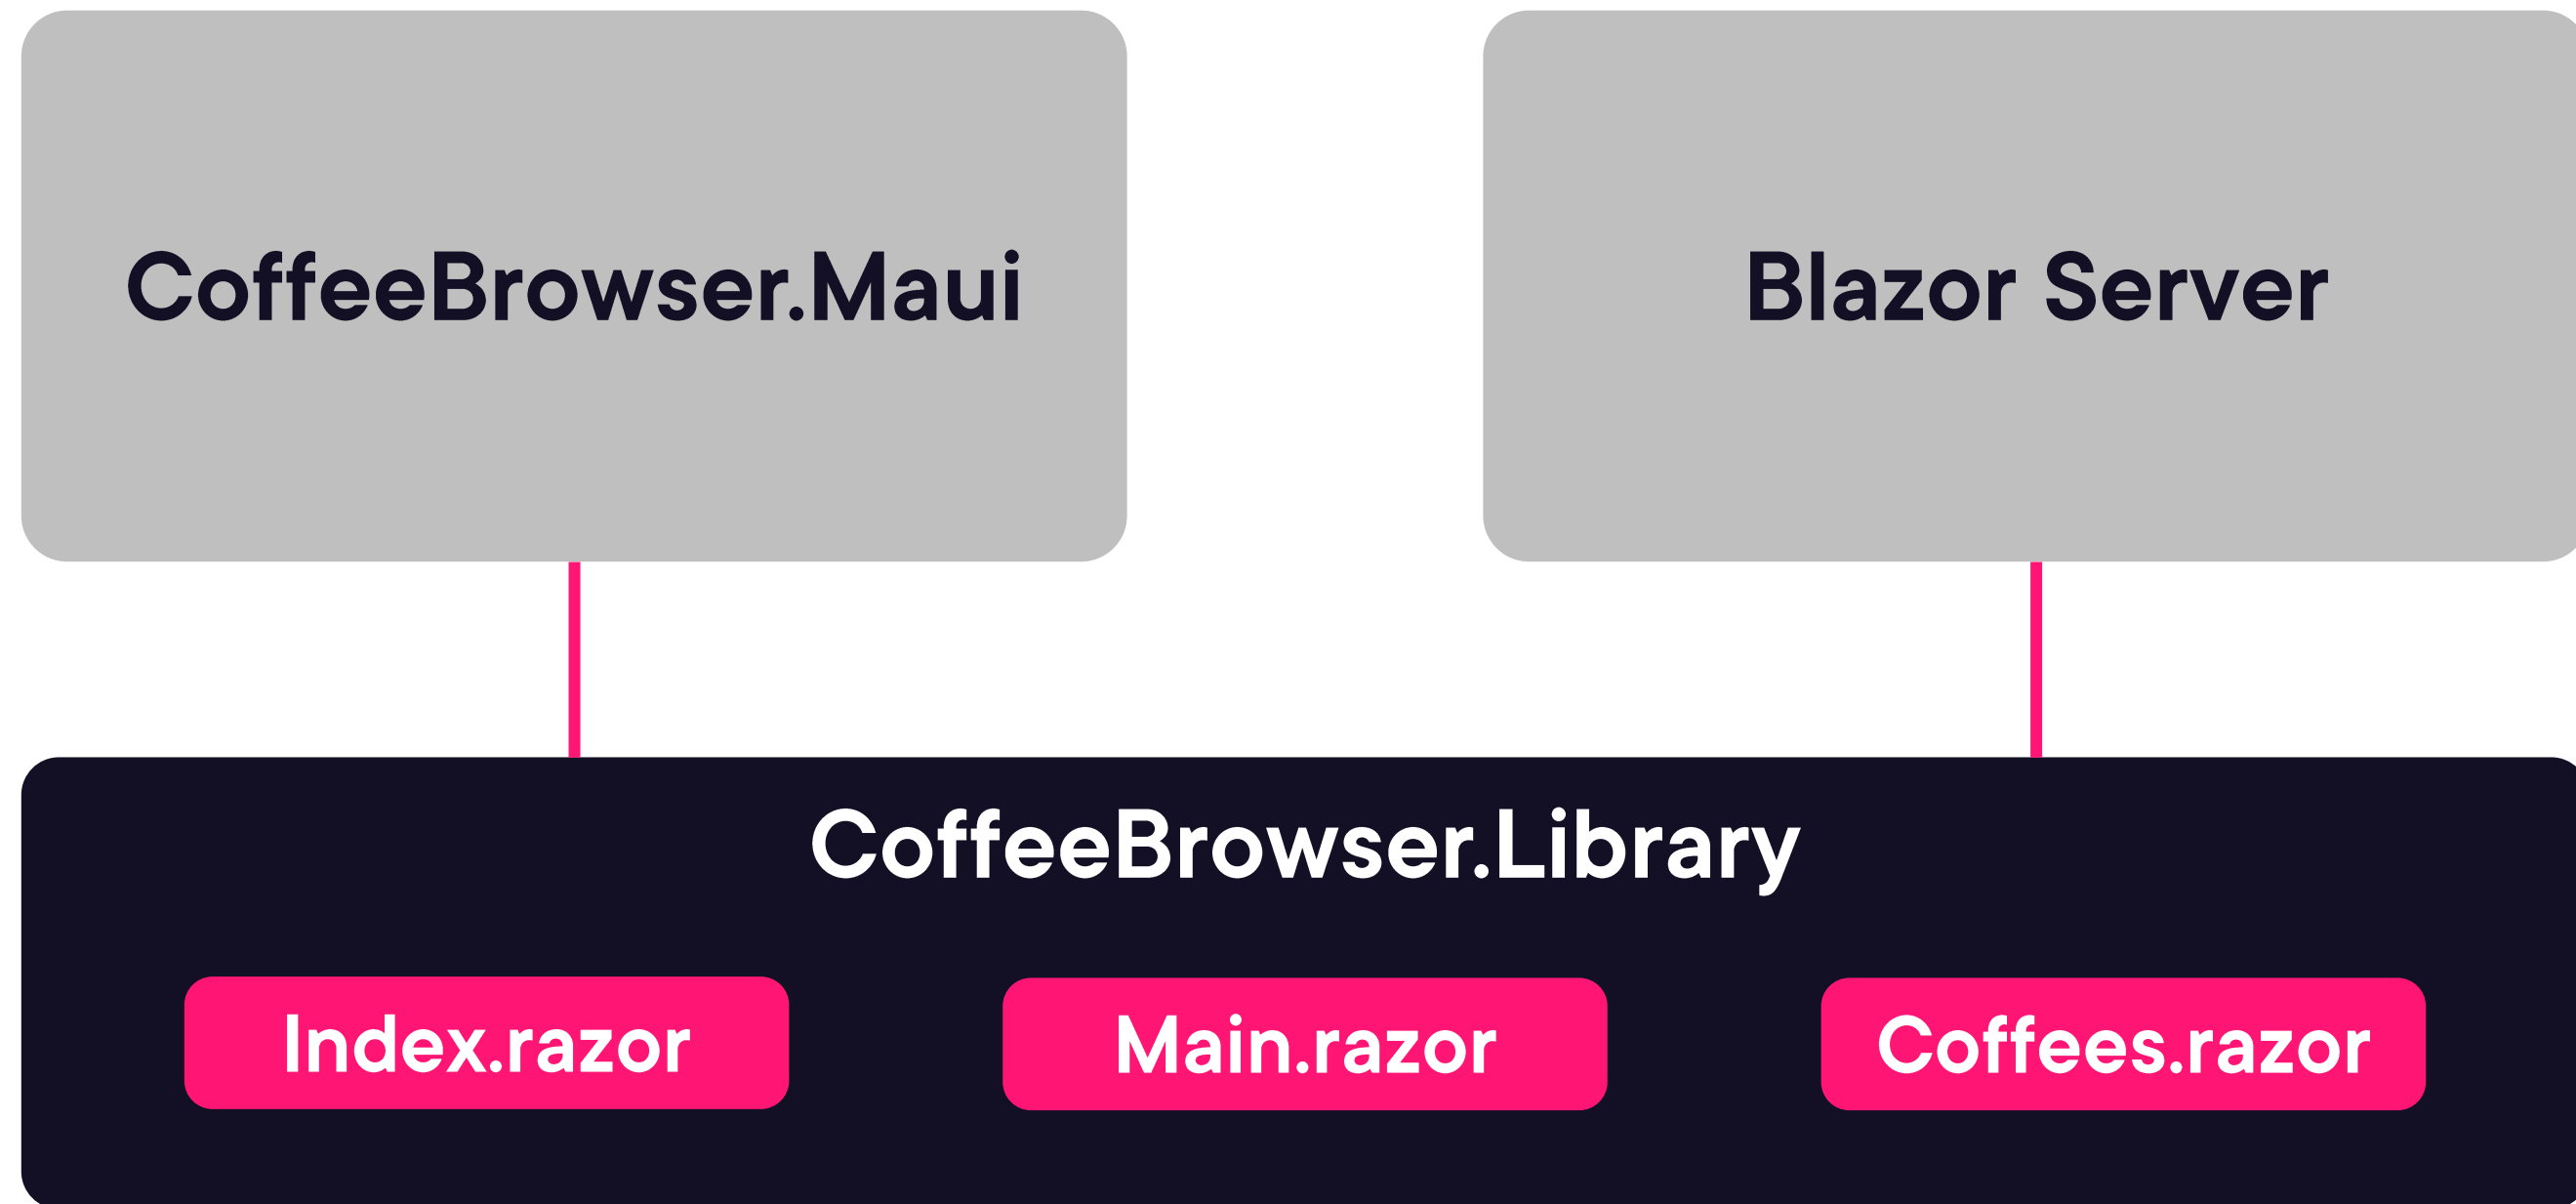

Understand the Plan

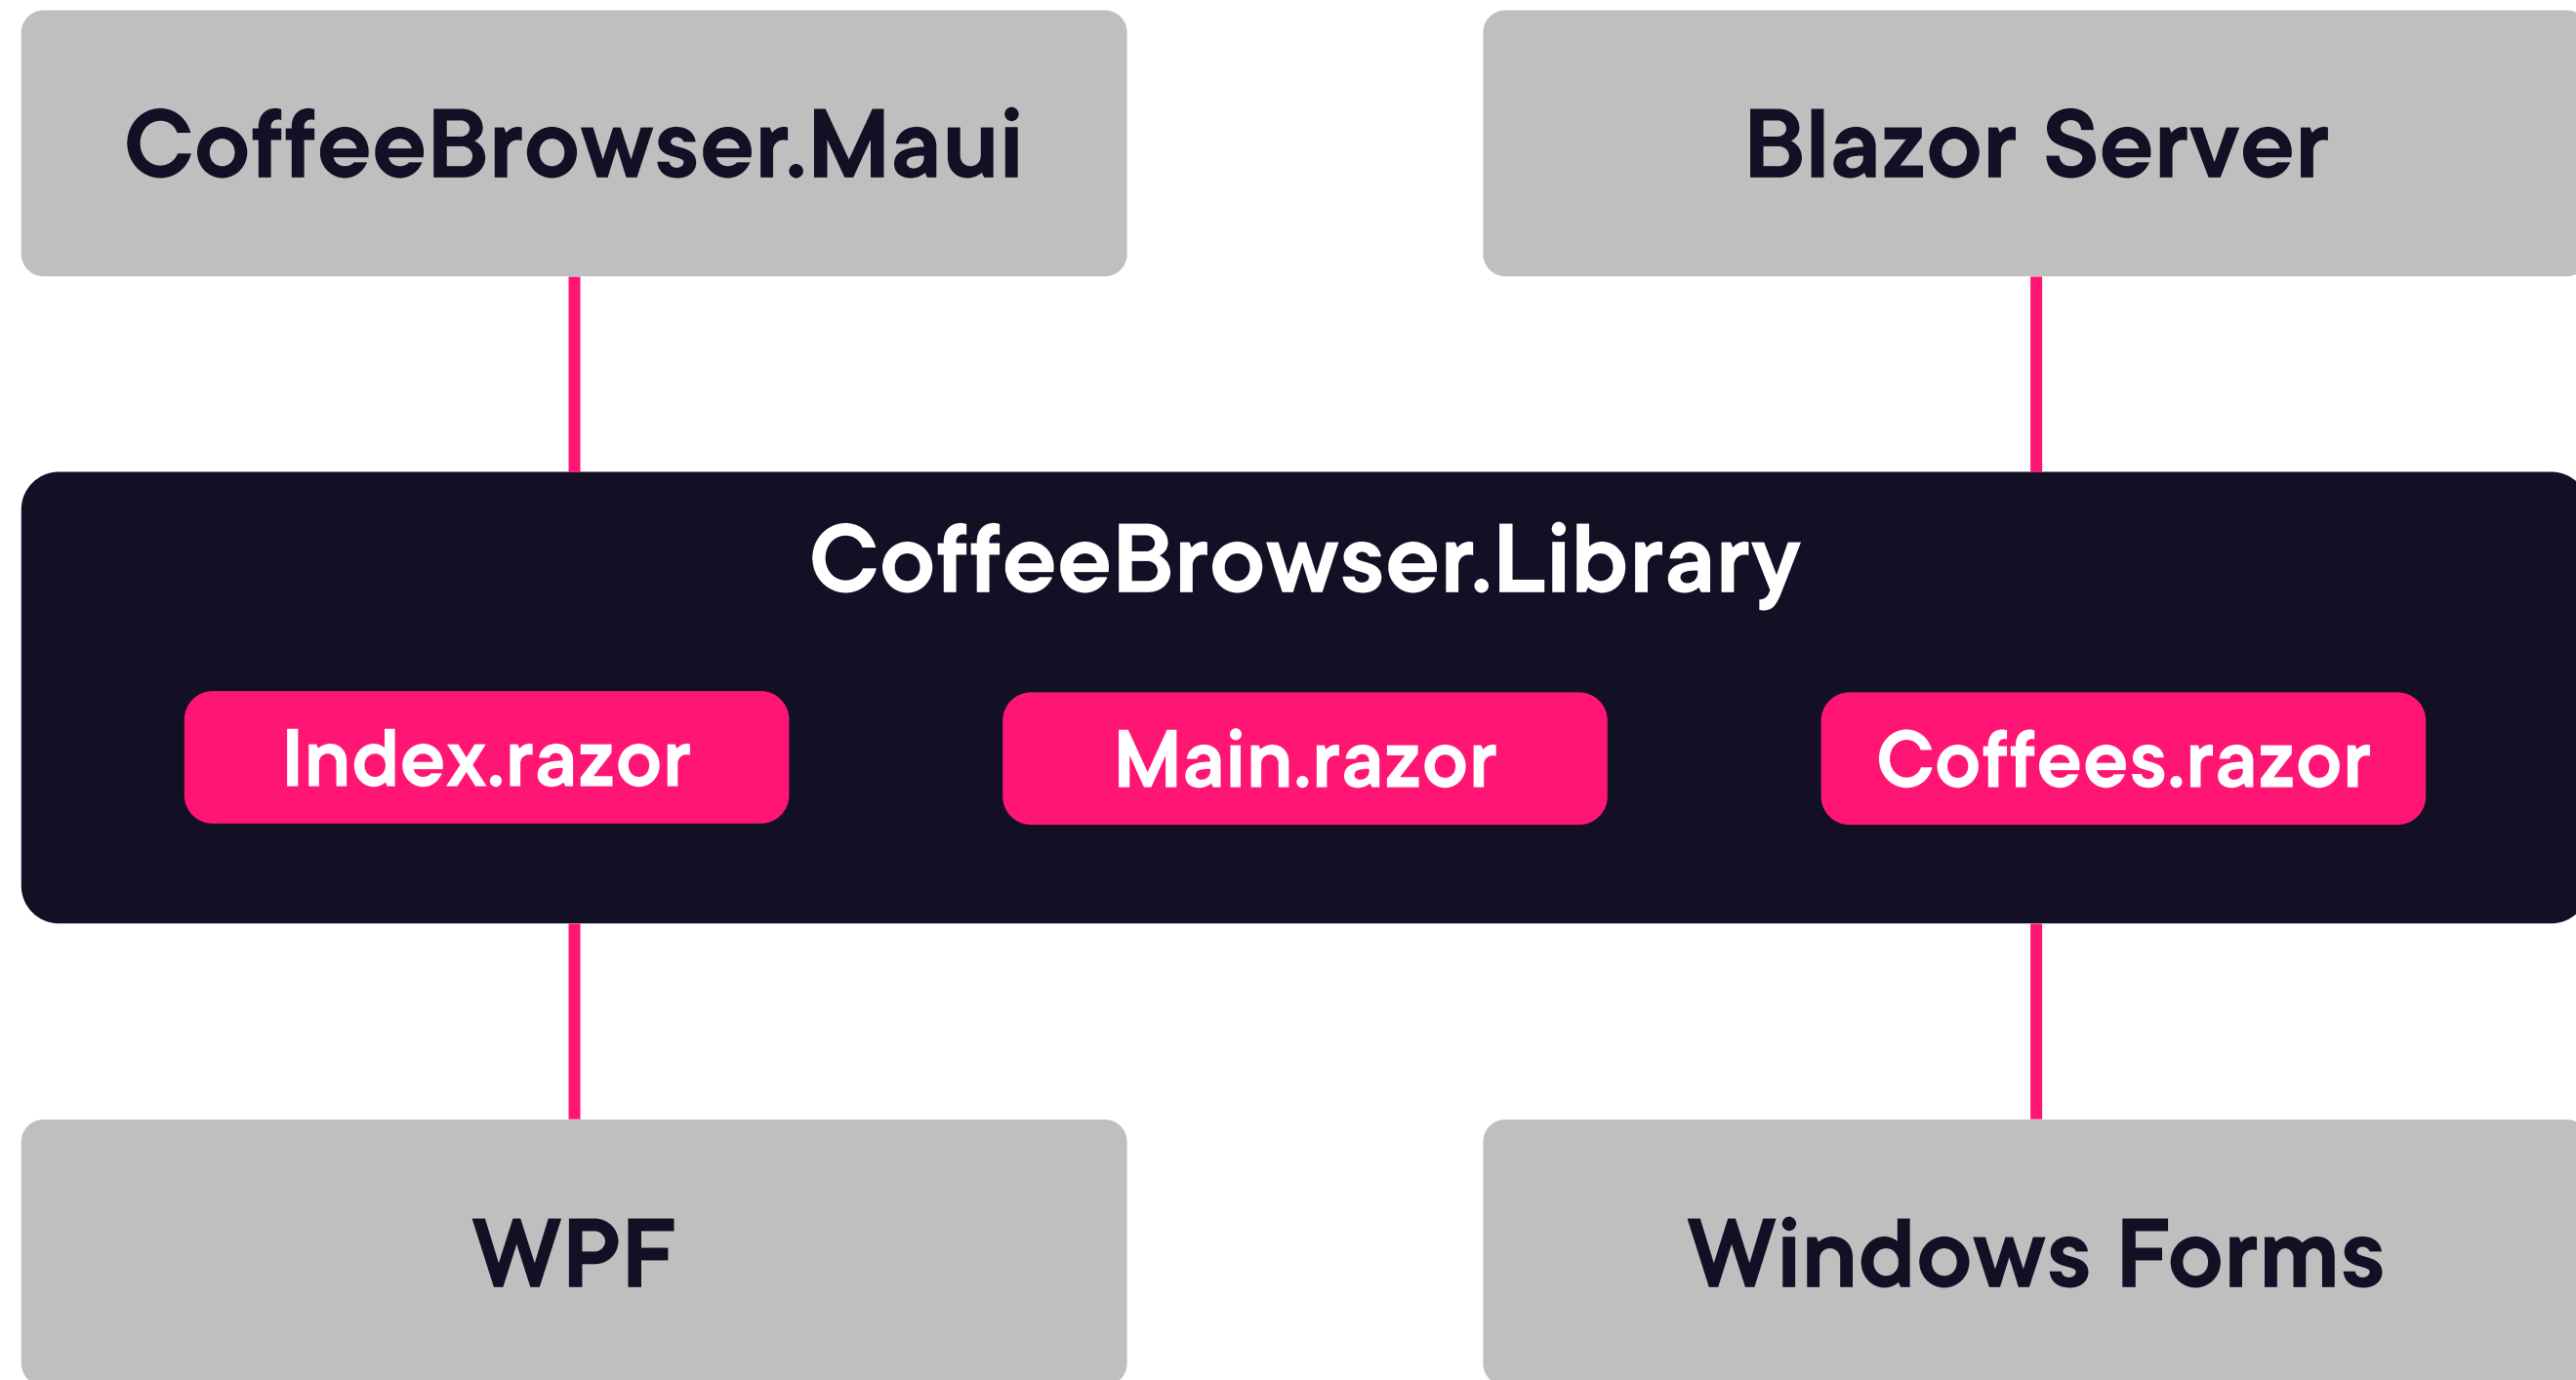

Understand the Plan

Understand the Plan

Understand the Plan

Move components to the library

Create a WPF project

Add a BlazorWebView

Set up dependency injection

Register required services

Include the styles

Use Windows authentication

Look at a Windows Forms project

Summary

Move components to the library

- Reuse them in WPF and Windows Forms

Create a WPF project

- Add a BlazorWebView
- Set up dependency injection
- Include styles
- Use Windows authentication

Look at a Windows Forms project

Up Next:

Publishing Your Application

